Foreword

In the year 1892 Lars K. Aaker, a member of the second generation of the Aaker family in America, procured the publication of a record of the family, which has formed the basis of the present work. In the work of compiling the record, Mr. Aaker was assisted by Rev. B. J. Muus, the veteran Norwegian-American churchman, who was also the founder of St. Olaf college. In his introductory note Mr. Aaker credits him with much of the necessary information used in his book, saying in part:

“It has long been my purpose to have printed these memorials of our departed parents, in order that they might be preserved for the coming generations. For the realization of this purpose, we are indebted to Rev. B. J. Muus, who has preserved a copy of the sermon he preached at their golden wedding celebration, and the sketches which he read at their funerals. He has also gathered the memoranda concerning their descendants to be found in the following pages, which I hope will be of interest to our children.”

The present volume is intended as a continuation of the work so well begun by Mr. Aaker. The facts in the first part of the record are drawn exclusively from the older record, and the added information and sketches have been willingly furnished by the members of the family now living.

Like its predecessor, this edition of the “Aaker Saga” is dedicated to the hope that it may serve to keep up the ties of kinship among the widely scattered members of the family, and preserve among them the memory of the sturdy Norse stock from which they sprung.

Personal Memoirs

of Knud S. Aaker

"I will praise thee, O Lord, with my whole heart: I will shew forth all thy marvelous works. I will be glad and rejoice in thee: I will sing praise to thy name, O thou most High."

—Ps. 9:1-2.

I have long intended to put into writing some data concerning our lives, which I hope may be of interest to our descendants when we are departed, and possibly to generations in the unseen future.

I, Knud Saavesen Aaker, was born on the Moen farmstead in Brunkeberg, Jan. 27, 1797, the son of Saave Knudsen and Aslaug Halvorsdatter. Of eight brothers and sisters, I am the oldest. My wife, Mari Larsdatter, was born on the Hægtvedt farmstead in Laurdal, Jan. 6, 1799, the daughter of Lars Knudsen and Asborg Halvorsdatter. We were married in Brunkeberg church Dec. 5, 1818; immigrated to America June 7, 1845, and settled in Dane county, Wisconsin; in 1857 we moved to Minnesota and took a homestead in Holden township, Goodhue county.

In the year 1819, on the 24th day of September, our son Saave was born on the Moen farmstead in Brunkeberg; he was confirmed in the Moland church on All Saints' Sunday in 1835, and was married Oct. 2, 1844, to the maid Anne Christine Scott of Kvitseid. He immigrated to America in 1852, and died Aug. 13, 1862, and was buried at Holden church in Goodhue county on the 16th of the same month. He left a wife and nine children.

On June 19, 1822, our daughter Asborg was born, and was baptized the 22nd in the Brunkeberg church; was confirmed in the Laurdal church on the 10th Sunday after Trinity in 1838; married in the West Koshkonong church (Wisconsin) on Oct. 18, 1849, to Knud Olsen Gjerjord of Brunkeberg.

On Sept. 19, 1825, our son Lars was born, and was baptized on the 24th of the same month. He was confirmed May 29, 1842, in the Laurdal church; married to the maid Kathrine Helvig Westrem of Graven parish in Hardanger, at the East Koshkonong church, Feb. 13, 1853.

Our daughter Aslaug was born May 25, 1828; baptized on the 22nd of the same month; confirmed in the Laurdal church Aug. 11, 1844; married to Halvor Olsen Huset.

Anne was born April 6, 1831; confirmed in the West Koshkonong church on the first Sunday after Easter, 1846; married in October, 1855, to Hans C. Aadnesen of Stavanger.

Aaste was born Sept. 15, 1834; confirmed at Koshkonong the first Sunday after Easter, 1849; married April 5, 1858, to Ole Jørgensen Solberg.

Our third son, Halvor, was born March 30, 1837, and died March 1, 1843.

Our fourth son, Nils, was born July 9, 1841, and was confirmed in the West Koshkonong church on Ascension day, 1855; married Feb. 26, 1863, to the maid Marthe Olsdatter Föllingstad.

The above memoirs are written July 9, 1864.

“Let my mouth be filled with thy praise and with thy honor all the day.” (Ps. 71:1).

On July 26, 1869, my beloved wife, Mari Larsdatter, died, after an illness of thirteen or fourteen weeks, at the high age of 70½ years. She passed away peacefully, trusting to her Saviour. Peace be with her. God grant that I also may depart in peace when His hour comes. Of this, it will be the duty of another to make note.

First Generation

Founders of the Aaker Family in America

Knud Saavesen Aaker
Mari Larsdatter Hægtvedt

The founders of that branch of the Aaker family in America of which this book is intended to preserve the record, were Knud Saavesen Aaker and his wife Mari Larsdatter Hægtvedt. Both were natives of the Upper Telemarken district in Norway, famous in story and song as one of the most beautiful and impressive regions of the Northland.

Knud Saavesen Aaker was born on the Moen farmstead in Brunkeberg, annex to Kvitseid parish, on Jan. 27, 1797, the son of Saave Knudsen and Aslaug Halvorsdatter. He was the oldest of eight children. On Dec. 5, 1818, he was married to Mari Hægtvedt, the daughter of Lars Knutsen and his wife Asborg Halvorsdatter, who was born Jan. 6, 1799.

The couple lived on a farm in Brunkeberg for five years, when they moved to Laurdal, where they remained until in 1828. In the latter year they took up their residence in Kvitseid, but moved again the following year to Moland. In this district Knud Aaker served for a time as "lensmand," which corresponds most nearly to sheriff in America, except that the office in Norway carried with it much larger powers. In 1836 the couple again returned to Laurdal, and continued to live there until June 7, 1845, when they took their departure from their native land and set sail for America. Arriving in the new world, they settled in Dane county, Wisconsin, near the West Koshonong church, one of the first Norwegian churches in America, which had been built the year before their arrival. Twelve years later they again joined the stream of immigration that pushed the frontier ever toward the setting sun. They found a home in the fertile and beautiful Goodhue county, Minnesota, and settled in Holden township, a region which soon became the home of one of the largest and wealthiest Norse colonies in America. Here they continued to make their home until their death. On Dec. 5, 1868, the venerable couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. At this event their pastor, the pioneer Norse clergyman, Rev. B. J. Muus, delivered the anniversary address. This sermon, as a document of family interest, and as the utterance of one of the foremost Norse churchmen in America, is reprinted below in full:

Guldbryllupstale ved Pastor B. J. Muus.

(Jes. 46, 3. 4.)

“Siger altid Gud og Faderen Tak for alle Ting i vor Herres Jesu Christi Navn!” tilraaber Apostelen Paulus os i Brevet til de Ephesier 5te Kapitel. Det er de Christnes Glæde at ihukomme, at al Velsignelse, som kommer til dem fra den almægtige Gud, kommer fra et Faderherte, at de timelige og aandelige Goder, som vi annamme, ere Vidnesbyrd om, at den, som holder Himmelen og Jorden i sin Haand, for hvis Domstol vi en gang skulle staa, er vor Fader, Forløser og Helliggjører, og at de Goder, vi her paa Jorden annamme, kun ere en Forsmag paa den himmelske Herlighed. Ved de Goder, Han meddeler os her, vil Han kun lække os til at elske Sig, som har beredt os et Sted i det store Hus herovenfor, hvor Han vil gjøre sine Børn deelagtige i en Herlighed, som ingen jordisk Forstand kan fatte, ingen jordisk Tunge udsige. Derfor er det og Guds Børns Lyst at ofre Lov og Tak til Ham, hvem Majestæt og Vælde og Herlighed og Seier og Ære tilhører (1 Krøn. 29 11), og de sige gjerne med David: “Jeg vil love Guds Navn med en Sang, og jeg vil storligen ære Ham med Taksigelse!” (Ps. 69, 31). Og Guds Børns Tak behager Herren formedelst deres Mægler Jesum Christum, som Herren siger (Ps. 50, 23): “Den, som ofrer Taksigelse, den ærer Mig; og den, som sætter sig den rette Vej fore, ham vil Jeg lade se paa Guds Salighed.”

Derfor ere vi ogsaa idag komne sammen her i Herrens Hus for med Eder og for Eder, kjære Gamle, at ofre Herren Taksigelse for den Miskundhed og Barmhertighed, Han saa rigeligen har udstøst over Eder, og med og for Eder bede Ham, som hidtil har baaret Eder paa Ørnevinger, at Han vil føre Eder fremad til Seier, saa I en gang fri fra alle Syndens og Forkrænkeliighedens Baand fuldkommen kunne prise Ham i Selskab med alle de Forløste og Englenes tusinde Gange Tusinde.

Til den Ende ville vi betragte en af de Forjættelser, som Herren gav sit Eiendomsfolk i Jes. 46, 3. 4: “Hører Mig, Jakobs Hus og all Overblevne af Israels Hus! I, som ere lagte paa Mig fra Moders Liv, som bæres af Mig fra Moders Liv af! Ogsaa indtil Alderdommen skal Jeg være den Samme og bære Eder indtil graa Haar; Jeg, Jeg haver gjort Eder, og Jeg vil opløfte, og Jeg vil bære og lade undkomme!”

Denne Trøst giver Herren sit udvalgte Folk efter først at have forkyndt dem, hvorledes Han til en Tagtelse for deres skjændige Ulydighed og Frafald fra Ham skulde overgives i Trældom til Babel. Han vilde ikke fordærve, men frelse, hvad der vilde lade sig frelse. Og, ligesom denne Forjættelse gjælder dem, som efter Kjødets vare Hans udvalgte Folk, saa gjælder den ogsaa alle dem, som ere Hans aandelige Børn. Lader os da se, hvorledes Herren har holdt sin Forjættelse mod Eder.

Ogsaa I ere undfangne i Synd og fødte i Misgjerning, og Eders Hjerters Tanker have været onde fra Eders Ungdom af. Paa alle Slags Maader har Arvesyndens onde Væsen viist sin magt ogsaa i Eder, i Eders Tanker, Ord, Begjæringer og Gjærninger, og Herren Eders Gud har derfor sat Eder i dette Udlændigheds Land, at I ved Trængsel og Modgang saavel som ved Lykke og Modgang skulde boies til at kjende Ham, som har skabt Eder, elske Ham, som har forløst Eder, søge Ham, som helliggjør Eder. I kunne visselig have Grund til at udraabe: Herre, gik ikke til Doms med din Tjener, thi Ingen, som lever, er retfærdig for Dig! Jeg er den Tjener, som er 10,000 Talenter skyldig, og jeg har—Intet at betale med! Hvor skal jeg gaa fra din Aand, og hvor skal jeg fly fra dit Ansigt? (Ps. 139, 7). Men hvorledes har Herren holdt sin Forjættelse.

I. i det Timelige. Er ikke Han den, som drog Eder af Moders Liv, Eders Herre og Eders Gud, efter først underliggen at have samlet Eders første Guldvold? Er ikke Han den, som havde udøst af sin Faderkjærligheds Aand i Eders Færelses Hjertes, saa at de havde sin Lyst i at være den Høiestes Tjenere til at opfostre og opdrage Eder i den Tid, da I selv vare uden Kraft til at sørge, ja uden Forstand til at tænke paa Eders Velfærd? Var det ikke Ham, som sendte sine Engle omkring Eder i Eders spæde Barndoms Tid, som vogtede Eder fra Skade og Fare, naar Forældres Øie ikke kunde hvile paa Eder? Herren den trofaste Gud var den, som var med Eder i Eders Barndoms Dage og ledsagede Eder i Eders Ungdoms Aar, som talte Eders Hovedhaar og frelste Eder igjennem Ungdoms Forvildelser og ledede Eders Vei saa, at I kunde have den timelige Lykke at kunne give hverandre Eders Hænder for Hans Alter og finde en Medhjælp og en Støtte paa Vandringer i dette Udlændigheds Land. Og naar I nu se tilbage paa det halve Aarhundrede, som er forløbet siden den Tid, da I enedes om at bære hverandres Byrder, da ved jeg, at I ville finde overflødig Aarsag til at prise den Gud, som forundte Eder den Gave, I have i hinanden, til at bære Livets Sorger og dele dets Glæder, formilde dets Savn, lette dets Væ og beseire dets Trængsels. Og, da Gud velsignede Eder med Livs Frugt, da I vuggede den Førstfødte paa Eders Knæ, og da den Sidstfødte kom, hvormegen Glæde havde I ikke i disse, hvor var deres barnlige Færd Eder en Opmuntring og Trøst. Naar I oversaa denne store Flok, talte de mange Munde, som vilde have Brød, og oversaa Forraadshuset, som vel tildeels kunde være knapt nok, da vilde vel Bekymring og Mishaab indsnige sig, og I fristedes til at tabe Den af-syne, som havde baaret Eder paa Ørnevinger og har lovet at høre dem, som paakalde Ham. Naar Herren nu spørger Eder: "Fattedes Eder da Noget af det, som hørte til Nødtørft og Næring for dette Legeme og Liv?" maa I ikke da som Disciple af et fuldt, taknemmeligt Hjerte svare: "Herre, os fattedes Intet." Da I forlod Eders Fædres Jord, det Land, som havde opdraget Eder og været Eders Moder, forlod Eders Slægt og Venner for i dette fjerne Land at finde et bedre Udkomme for den Skare, som var opvokset omkring Eder, da førte Herren Eder, Han bar Eder over de store Vande, Han gav Eder og Eders Huns Udkomme, ja Velstand, Han gjorde Eders Børn til Ægtefæller, Fædre og Mødre, saa hver kan sidde i sit Paaan og heller yde Andre en hjælpsom Haand end selv trænge dertil. Jakob sagde, da han kom tilbage fra Charan til Kanaans Land. "Jeg er ringere end alle de Miskundheder og al den Trofasthed, som Du har gjort imod din Tjener; thi med min Stav gik jeg over denne Jordan, og nu er jeg vorden til to Hare."—I kunne sige: "Som fattige bleve vi af Herren baarne over det store Hav, men Han har gjort os til syv Huse." Naar I fremdeles i Eders Alderdoms Tid kunne nyde et sorgfrit Liv i en kjær Søns og Datters Hus, naar I kunne vandre om fra Hus til Hus og finde Børn og Børnebørn glade sig ved Eders Komme og bedrøves over Eders Bortgang, naar Gud har forundt Eder saavidt Sjæls og Legems Kræfter, som I have havt hidtil, naar I finde Eder selv mødte med Agtelse og Velvilje og Eders Slægts Navn agtet blandt Eders Medborgere, da veed jeg ikke, hvad bedre I kunne sige end dette: "Herre, jeg er ringere end alle de Miskundheder og al den Trofasthed, som Du har gjort imod din Tjener! Ogsaa indtil Alderdommen har Du været os den den Samme, Du har baaret os indtil graa Haar. Du har gjort os, Du har opløftet os, Du har baaret os, Du har ladet os undkomme."

Men var dette de eneste Gaver, som I Eders Alderdoms Tid kunde prise Herren for, da have I kun saaet i Eders Kjød og skulde da ogsaa maatte høre Forkrænkelsen af Kjødet; men Gud være lovet, at I have lært at sætte Pris paa Hans

2. aandelige Gaver, og lært at takke Ham derfor. Naar I nu betænke, hvor meget ringere I ere end Herrons Miskundhed, betænke Eders Naturs Fordærvelse og Frafald fra Gud, hvor ilde I have takket Ham for al Hans Trofasthed, hvor lidet I have forladt Eder paa Ham alene, hvor ofte I have gjort det Onde, undladt det Gode, hvor ofte I ved Verdens Kjærlighed eller Selvkjærlighed have bedrøvet Guds gode Hellig Aand osv., og da se Eder om paa dette Sted, hvor ville I da kunne paamindes om alle de aandelige Gaver, hvorved Han har født Eder paany, opløftet Eder, baaret Eder, ladet Eder undkomme? Han gav og dette i Eders Forældres Sind, at de gjerne vilde bringe Eder, som vare fødte Kjød af Kjød, til Daabens hellige Vand at I ogsaa aandeligen maatte fødes paany af Gud. Herren lod sin Tjener "velsigne Eders Indgang og Udgang fra nu og indtil evig Tid," da I paa Eders Fædres Arme bragtes til Daabens hellige Vand. Han oprettede en Pagt med Eder og lovede Eder, at Han vilde være Eders Gud, at Han vilde afte Eders Synder og bære Eder indtil Alderdommen og de graa Haar. Har Han svigtet sin Pagt? Har Pagten ikke staaet fast paa Hans Side, saa der har været aaben Adgang til Livets Kilde, naarsomhelst I have begjæret at slukke Eders Sjæls Tørst? Han lod sit Ord indprente i Eder fra Eders spæde Barndom ved sine Tjenere, Eders Forældre og Lærere, maaske ofte imod Eders Vilje. Han ledede Eder til at gjentage Eders Daabs Løfte for sit Alter og lovede Eder fra sin Side at gjøre Alt for at opholde Eder i Eders Daabs Naade. Da I tilsammen atter traadte frem for Hans Alter, lagde Han sin Haand paa Eders Hoved og velsignede Eders Ægteskabs Pagt. Han underviste, formanede, straffede, trøstede Eder fra sin Prædikestol i den offentlige Forsamling og ellers i det Stille og Skjulte af sit hellige Ord. Han gav Eder sit Kjød at æde og sit Blod at drikke og sagde til Eder: "Hvo, som æder mit Kjød og drikker mit Blod, har et evigt Liv, og Jeg skal opreise ham paa den yderste Dag!" (Joh. 6, 54). Han har taalt Eders Uforstand, baaret Eders Skrøbeligheder, søgt Eder da, naar I ikke søgte Ham. Som en Fader har Han ogsaa tugtet Eder og sendt Eder i Korsets velsignede Skole. Den Trængsel, I have havt fra Eders eget Hjerte, fra hinanden, fra Eders Børn, fra smaa Kaar, fra Verdens Børn,—har været Hans faderlige Tugtelse, Aabenbarelsen af den Kjærlighed, som vilde bringe Eder til først og fremst at søge Guds Rige og Hans Retfærdighed. Har Han undertiden gjort Eder Livet sunrt, da har Han villet vække Eders Længsel efter et bedre Liv. Have I tugtet Eders egne Børn af Bekymring for deres Sjæle, da har Han med langt større Kjærlighed og Fader-troskab tugtet Eder. Men, har Han slaaet Saar, saa har Han ogsaa læget; Han har vakt Eder af Sløvhed, opholdt i Modgang, trøstet i Bedrøvelse. Han har givet Eder sin Søn og med Ham alle Ting, saa at I, naar I nu snart skulle komme til Jordans Flod, ikke behøve at frygte, men kunne have den Fortrøstning, at den almægtige Guds Søn vil skille Vandene ad og lade Eder faa Adgang til det forjættede Land.

Men ikke alene til Eders eget Behov har Han fyldt Eders Hænder med Livets Brød, Han har ogsaa givet Eder rigeligen at uddele til Andre, som have havt det behov. I have faaet Naade til at lede ogsaa Eders Børn hen til Klippen, saa at ogsaa de kunne, om de ville, slaa paa den med Troens Stav og finde det evige Livs Kildevæld. I have faaet Hjælp i denne Gjerning fra Herren, som har sendt Lærere at arbejde til det samme Maal, at fylde Eders Børns Hjerter med Herrens Huses gode Ting; I have i dette fremmede Land fundet et Kirkesamfund, som stræber til i Ydmyghed og Eenfoldighed at holde sig selv og Andre paa de gamle Stier, hvor de nu saliggjorte Aander forud vandrede i deres Prøvetid, ja I have havt den Naade paa dette Sted at bære et af Eders Børn til hans sidste Sovekammer, hvem Herren sparede for Dødens Bitterhed, og om hvem vi haabe, at han har vundet Seier ved vor Herre Jesum Christum.

Hvad skulde da Herren mere gjøre for Eder, end Han allerede har gjort? Ogsaa i det Aandelige har Han født Eder paany, som vare døde, opløftet Eder, som vare sunkne, baaret Eder, som vare afmægtige, indtil Alderdommen og de graa Haar. Skulde I nu tvivle paa, at Han skulde ville lade Eder aldeles undkomme? Han, som har givet Eder sin Søn, skulde Han ikke ville give Eder alle Ting med Ham? Han, som har velsignet Eder timeligen og aandeligen gennem et langt Liv og ladet sin Godhed og Barmhjertighed være ny over Eder hver Dag, Han vil ogsaa gjerne bringe Eder til Salighedens nye Aar. Saa opløfter Eders Hoveder, efterdi Eders Forløsning stunder til!

O trofaste Gud! O Jesu min Herre!
 Mit Hjerte ret fuldt af Glæde bør være;
 Thi Du min Broder vorden est,
 Om Verden endskjønt bruger sin List.

Hvad kan mig skade Synd eller Død,
 Naar Du mig hjælper af al min Nød?
 Lad Djævelen og Helvede flyse med Spot,
 Du er min Tillid og faste Slot.

Jeg vil ei have brudt min Ret,
 Thi jeg er bleven din Byrd og Æt,
 Des takker jeg Dig i Evighed
 Ret hjertelig for din Godhed, Amen.

Abrahams Gud, Isaks Gud og Jakobs Gud, vore Fædres Gud, som har skabt Eder, opholdt og baaret Eder indtil denne Stund, som har forløst Eder med sit Blod og helliggjort Eder med sin Aand, Han styrke og opholde Eder i Ordet og Troen, indtil I dø!

P. N. Langemos Tale.

Ærede Venner! For to Uger siden blev jeg betroet den Hemmelighed, at der skulde blive et "surprise party" her idag i Egenskab af Guldbryllup, og blev ogsaa anmodet om at sige nogle Ord og forsøge at gjenkalde i Erindringen lidt af den svundne Tid.

Det er forholdsvis faa Ægtefolk som har den Glæde at faa vandre sammen i 50 Aar. Hr. Aaker vil kanske ikke tro det, da baade hans forældre og flere af hans Søstre har faat opleve Jubelaaret sammen med sin Ungdoms Udkaarede.

Det har været mig en Glæde at være i nært Venskabsforhold til Aaker familien lige siden jeg kom fra Norge over 62 Aar siden, og været med i mange af deres Glæde- og Sorgfester. Jeg var i gamle Knud og Mari Aakers Guldbryllup; var med i den fest for 50 Aar siden, som vi særlig idag mindes, og i flere af de Gamles Barnebørns Bryllupper, og var ogsaa for ikke saa længe siden indbudt til deres Barnebarnbarns Bryllup. Det har ogsaa været min Lod at gjøre mange af Familiens Lemmer den sidste Tjeneste, nemlig at være med og bære dem til Graven. Om det har lykkedes mig at gjøre dem nogen anden Tjeneste husker jeg ikke saa nøie.

Det er saaledes vanskeligt at sige hvilken Tid jeg har tilhørt, men hvis jeg har passet ind i nogen Tid, saa var det den Tid, da vi kjørte med Oxer. De var i mange Aar den eneste Drivkraft paa Farmen og kunde ogsaa med den største Taalmodighed gaa den over 30 Mil lange Vei til Red Wing for at bringe til Marked det lille man avlede. Om Sommeren var det noksaa hyggeligt, naar man havde godt Selskab, ti Oxerne vidste meget godt hvilken Side af Velen de have Ret til, og stod haardtakket paa sin Ret, men skulde de have mødt saadanne Maskiner som man møder nu, saa havde det nok gaaet galt. Om Vinteren tog de ofte paa at strides indbyrdes om Veiretten og skubbede hinanden ndover den høie Vei, da var det mindre hyggeligt. Oxerne er nu borte, og en hel Del af Selskabeligheden er gaaet samme Vei. Vi simple Folk havde dengang ikke ofte Brug for Mr., Mrs. eller Miss, men tiltalte hverandre med sit Døbenavn, det være nu Ole, Peer, eller Hans, Nils, Knud, eller Frans, Kari eller Mari, Marthe eller Berthe, og flere af samme Slags, som vi syntes var noksaa velklingende, men nu sørger Folk for at give sine Børn saadanne Navne at ingen behøver at mistænke dem for at være Ætlinger af Nordmænd.

Saa til Slutning, Kære Brudefolk, har eders Børn anmodet mig om at overrække Eder nogle smaa Foræringer fra dem til minde om Dagen, nemlig en Stok og en Ring. Den første kan jo minde Eder om at trods Eders raske Udseende nærmer dog den Tid sig, da I nok kan trænge en Støtte, og skulde den Tid komme, at Stokkens Støtte var utilstrækkelig, saa er jeg overbevist om at de vil støtte Eder med begge Hænder. Ringen er en Symbol paa at I to ere voxede saaledes sammen at I ligesaa lidt som Ringen kan skilles uden at brydes istykker. Saa har ogsaa nogle fjærnere Slægtninger og andre Venner skudt sammen til nogle smaa Foræringer, som jeg har den ære at overrække til et lidet Bevis paa Deres Agtelse og Kjærlighed, i haab om at det maa være en liden Opmuntring for Eder en Gang iblandt, den Stund I skal færdes henede. Det kan vel ikke blive saa mange Aar før hverken Eder eller mig, og vi vil bede Gud om Naade til at anvende dem saa at vi maa naa det Maal for hvilket vi er skabt.

Hiermed hjertelig til Lykke!

Pastor H. O. Fjeldstads Tale.

Til fest er vi samlede idag. En skjelden fest. For omkring 45 aar siden sad den nuværende brudgoms far og mor i samme hjem, paa samme gaard, som hædersgjæster til guldbryllups fest. Idag kan sønnen med sin hustru sidde i fars og mors plads og skue tilbage paa det samme antal aar siden sin bryllupsdag. At far og søn efter hverandre i samme hjem og paa samme gaard opnaar den skjeldne ære og glæde at fejre guldbryllups fest, hører vel til skjeldenhederne.

Tonen i denne fest og utryk for de tanker og følelser, som gjennemstrømmer vore hjerter kan vel ikke anslaaes bedre end i de ord, hvormed din far afsluttet sin egen lille selvbiografi: Lad min mund fyldes med lov, ja, den ganske dag med din pris. Salmen 71, 8.

Hvad er det da som er aarsag til denne glæde, som idag fylder eders og eders børns og venners hjerte? For at finde svar maa vi vende vore tanker tilbage gennem aarene helt forbi 50 aars dagen. * * * *

Bryllups festlighederne var vel neppe over før I tok fat paa de opgaver som laa foran eder. Der var meget at gjøre paa gaarden. Meget som skulde varetages, og meget som trængte at bygges op og sættes istand. Far og mor var blit gamle. De havde glædet sig med de glade og nu vilde de la de unge ta tak. Det var I villige til. I begyndte arbeidet sammen med lyst. Rigt paa opgaver og rigt paa begivenheder er livet blevet. Det daglige stræv med det arbejde som forelaa idet I skulde træde ind i fars og mors plads blev det første. Men det er forunderligt, hvor arbeidet lètner og, hvor det gaar med lyst, naar man har nogen at ofre sig for. Det er hemmeligheden i arbejdsglæden, at man kan være til glæde og hjælp. Slig gik tiden fort. Saa la den gode Gud et barn I eders fang. Som en sol lyste det lille ansigt. Hadde I kjendt, at der var noget, som bandt eder sammen før, saa kjendte I det langt klarere nu. Det var eders eget kjære lille barn, som laa der, saa vakkert og bragte saadan glæde at se paa og lege med og yde den tiltrængte pleie. Klarest kjendte I, hvor kjær I havde den lille, naar der var noget, som manglet. Hvad var for godt, hvilket offer for tungt for det! Søvnløse nætter, anstrængende arbejde klagede I ikke over. Nei det var det, som gav livet indhold og gjorde det værdt at leve. Øgede saa barneflokken med aarene saa øgede anstrængelserne for dem og bekymringerne efterhvert. Thi det blev eder klart, at det var ikke bare mad og klar og legemlig pleie de smaa trængte. De trængte og at lære ham at kjende, som havde taget dem i pagt med sig i den hellige daab og gjort dem til sine børn. Der kom en ny opgave. I magtet ikke selv, hverken formedelst tid eller kræfter at yde dem den nødvendige undervisning. Saa kom omsorgen for religions skolen og common skolen, for at de ikke bare kunne lære sin himmelske Fader at kjende, men ogsaa dygtiggjøres til i livet at tjene ham, med de evner og gaver Gud havde givet dem. Det stræv som far og mor har for at faa sine smaa oplærte, skjønner de smaa, de unge, sig lidet paa. * * * *

Og hvormange har ikke Herrens velgjerninger mod eder været. Vil I ikke om eders hele livs dag sige med sangerens ord: "Jeg gik som til et dækket bord." Naar manglet det eder det i trængte til føde og klæder for eder og eders børn. Gav han ikke eder det I trængte og i overflod?

Men det var ikke bare inden eders egen lille kreds eders opgaver laa og eders virke faldt. Guds menighed paa jord havde I faaet interesse for og kjærlighed til. Ogsaa der forelaa opgaver, i menighed og kvindeforening. Naar I idag ser tilbage paa dette arbejde, de tak I tok, det stræv I havde, er det saa ikke med tak til Gud for den anledning I havde til at ofre noget af eders tid, eders kraft og eders erhverv til at fremme Guds sag paa jorden? Vil I idag sige, at det var spilt kraft, møie og midler? Aa nu langt ifra. Igjen vil I be- kjende: Det er netop det som har givet livet indhold og glæde, ligesaa vist, som alt det, som har givet livet indhold og glæde er kommet fra Gud.

Men ogsaa i det borgerlige blev der noget at gjøre. Hvor interessant og betydningsfuldt syntes det ikke at bidrage sin skjerv til at de bedste embedsmænd kunde bli valgte fra landets øverste indtil den mindste i comitiet og townet. Der var mange spørgsmaal, som skulde diskuteres, meget, som skulde gjøres for at fremme det fælles vel. Saa randt aarene hen. Saa forunderligt fort, som det ene aar har fulgt paa det andet. Nu er 50 aar henglede. Søger I idag at samle minderne og forme i ord de tanker som vil komme til at lyse klarest, kan de saa ikke udtrykkes i disse ord of Salmisten, "Lad min mund fyldes med lov, ja, den ganske dag med din pris?" * * * *

Vi har vendt tanken og blikket tilbage paa de dage, som er svundne, de begivenheder I har oplevet. Lad os saa vende blikket fremover. Ikk mod det, som dette liv har at byde, men mod det, som Gud har beredt for dem, som elske hans aabenbarelse. Løft eders blikke opad mod himlen. Se de frelste for tronen. Hør deres jubel og se deres glæde. "Disse er de, som er kommet ud af den store trængsel og har toet deres kjortler i lammets blod." * * * *

Har I nu faaet fæstet blikket paa dette maalt og er det de fremtids udsigter I har, naar Herren kalder, at faa indta pladsen blandt hine for tronen saa vil I nok atter gjentage Salmistens ord: "Lad min mund fyldes med lov, ja, den ganske dag med din pris." Med dette ønske for eder og denne bøn er vi sanlet med eder idag. Det ber vi om for Jesu skyld. Amen.
